Terms and Conditions

By accepting the Terms and Conditions for using the online facility you declare that all information provided by you is correct. The falsification of any information provided by you, or the provision of incorrect information may result in the imposition of a financial penalty and/or expulsion from the University of Limerick.

Payment by you to the University of Limerick does not constitute a binding contract. The University of Limerick reserves the right to subsequently amend or adjust any fee charged to the student by the online facility at the University of Limerick's own discretion.

A student may be denied permission to progress in his/her programme of study if all fees have not been paid in full.

The University of Limerick may at any time at its sole discretion modify the terms of access to this facility. Your continued use of the facility following any such modification shall be deemed acceptance of such modification.

Disputes arising from the use of this facility and the interpretation of the University of Limerick's Terms and Conditions are subject to the laws of the Republic of Ireland. Disputes will be brought before the Irish courts. The University of Limerick reserves the right to institute proceedings in the country of your residence.

If you disagree with any of the terms and conditions and/or with any other of the applicable provisions of the University of Limerick's Regulations you are not permitted to use this facility.
