1. Before using any service on the library website, you should sign in. Use your UL username (student ID OR staff first name last name) and password. Postgraduate students should use their student ID.
2. Signing in will allow you to renew your loans online and access full-text articles or ebooks.

Looking for a specific article

Some publishers allow direct linking, which means you may be brought straight to an article by clicking on the link. Others will require you to be directed to an intermediate page on which you may find the link to the article.
