

About Radboud University

Radboud University is a private university that owes its origins to the Catholic emancipation movement of the early twentieth century. In keeping with this tradition, staff and students feel a commitment to one another, to society and to the world. Our focus is on caring for each other and the world around us. We want to have an impact, and in this we are guided by both academic questions and societal challenges.

Key achievements

- Ranked best traditional, general university in the Netherlands
- Nobel Prize for Physics awarded in 2010
- Over 100 ERC grants awarded over the past ten years
- Important role in first-ever image of a black hole

Study opportunities

- 38 Bachelor's Programmes
- 57 Master's Programmes

Research

- Active in all research areas: alpha, beta and gamma
- Multidisciplinary and interdisciplinary research
- Prominent research facilities:
  - Donders Institute for Brain, Cognition and Behaviour
  - High Field Magnet Laboratory
  - Max Planck Institute for Psycholinguistics

FACTS & FIGURES

Number of students

Number of staff members (FTE)

Number of academic staff (FTE)

Student-staff ratio

Quality of education

Students' satisfaction with the content of the degree programme (NSS)

Student satisfaction

Students' satisfaction with the degree programme in general (NSS)

First-generation students

1% first-year students have two parents without a university education (Welcome survey)

Number of diplomas

Radboud University is contributing to a healthy, free world with equal opportunities for all.

Follow us!

Nijmegen

- Second most attractive student city in the Netherlands
- Oldest city in the Netherlands
- Surrounded by nature and rivers

