Please note that the information contained in this brochure was correct at the time of going to press (December 2011) and that changes may have taken place since then. It is strongly recommended that you check the Internet for any changes and for any new and additional information about courses at the University of Würzburg.

Welcome to the University of Würzburg

We are pleased that you are interested in studying at the University of Würzburg. This booklet should help you find the answers to the many questions which you will have before you send off your application and before you leave for Germany.

The roots of the Julius Maximilian University of Würzburg reach back as far as 1402 AD. In that era, it was the sixth institution of higher learning to be founded in the German-speaking regions of Europe, after the Universities of Prague, Vienna, Heidelberg, Cologne, and Erfurt.

Nobel Laureates

Many eminent scholars and scientists, 14 Nobel Laureates among them, have researched and taught in Würzburg. Rudolf Virchow, Carl Siebold, and Franz Brentano are in that number, as well as Wilhelm Conrad Röntgen, who discovered X-rays at Würzburg in 1895, or Klaus von Klitzing, discoverer of the Quantum-Hall Effect.

Today, Würzburg's university is counted among the medium-sized institutions of higher learning in Germany. At ten faculties, about 400 professors teach around 22,000 students.

An Extensive Choice of Subjects

Having grown over more than six centuries, the course catalog of the University of Würzburg offers a wide range of subjects. Many new study programs have been added to the list of the classic four – Medicine, Theology, Philosophy, and the Law. The most recent are Nanostructure Technology, Technology of Functional Materials, Biomedicine, Modern China, the FOKUS Physics Bavarian Excellence Program, Media Communications, Human Factors in Computing Systems and Museology – to name but a few.

The University of Würzburg remains clearly and strongly committed to the Four Pillars – The Humanities, the Law and Economics, Life Sciences, Natural Science and Technology.

Why learn German?

Germany has the largest economy in Europe. Alongside Russian, German is the most frequently spoken native language in Europe. So regardless of what career you take up, whether in business, science or an international organisation, you will find a very valuable use for your German skills.

The reputation of Würzburg as a beautiful city of great cultural interest is well known. It combines the practical advantages of a medium-sized, safe and inexpensive town with the recreational amenities of a regional centre.

About 1,700 foreign students from more than 100 different countries study here. An attractive programme of intensive courses in German as a Foreign Language is offered at the Language and Media Centre. We cordially invite you to apply to become part of our student community and hope that your stay will be an enjoyable and rewarding experience both academically and in terms of your personal life and development.

We hope you will have an enjoyable and successful stay at the University of Würzburg.

All the best,

from the International Office

The city of Würzburg

Wuerzburg is an attractive town in the heart of Germany. It is the cultural and political centre of the northern Bavarian region of Lower Franconia. The Council of Europe awarded Wuerzburg with the Flag of Honour in 1970 and the Europe Prize and the title of "Europastadt" in 1973. Other towns and cities in Germany are within easy reach due to its central location and good road and rail links. The city is located on the intersection of the Autobahns A3, A7 and A81. There's a direct connection to and from Frankfurt airport with the high-speed IC and ICE trains every hour. Nuremburg and Stuttgart airports are also within 100-150 km distance.

Wuerzburg - International

The twin towns of Wuerzburg are:

the city of Bray in the county of Wicklow, Ireland since 1999; Caen, France since 1962; Dundee, Scotland since 1962; Mwanza, Tansania since 1966; Otsu, Japan since 1979; Rochester in the USA since 1964; Salamanca, Spain since 1980; Suhl in Thüringen, Germany since 1988; and Umeå, Sweden since 1992. Wuerzburg is also closely associated with the Germans of the district Trautenau, Czech Republic since 1956.

UNESCO World Heritage Site - Residenz

The Wuerzburg Residenz, which was built in 1720-1744, is the former residence of the prince bishops and is one of the most important European castles of the southern German baroque era. It is famous for its baroque staircase created by Balthasar Neumann and the elaborate frescoes by Tiepolo. In 1981 it became the third German building to be recognised as a UNESCO heritage site.

Culture and Art

Wuerzburg's cultural scene is a blend of different cultural influences with a great amount of variety for all audiences. Internationally renowned festivals include the Mozartfest in June/July and the Afrika Festival in May, which welcomes over 120,000 visitors each year making it one of the biggest festivals of African music in Europe. Other notable festivals include the Umsonst-und-Draußen Festival, the Bachtage, the Jazz Festival, the Internationales Filmwochenende, and the Kiliani Volksfest in mid July. Opera, operettas, musicals, plays and concerts are held in the Mainfranken Theatre. Wuerzburg's state gallery is the Kulturspeicher which also houses a collection of modern art. The Mainfranken Museum, with artefacts from prehistory until modern times, hosts the world's largest and most comprehensive Riemenschneider exhibition.

Studying at one of the oldest German universities

A Policy of Expansion

It is not only the list of study options that has grown over the years. The University itself has been expanding continuously. The generous grounds of Hubland Campus are situated on a hill at the eastern edge of the city. Newly-designed study programs and the steady influx of students continue to drive the institution's growth. In 2011, the University has started to spread over the Campus Nord, a 39-hectare area which directly borders on Hubland Campus.

Würzburg University holds a position among the leading institutions in Germany – this is verified by the rankings of domestic and international research organizations and of international expert committees. On an international level as well, the University of Würzburg rates in the top bracket of academic institutions in many disciplines of science, for instance, in Biology, Medicine, Physics, and Psychology.

Research Centers as a Trademark

As early as in the 1990s, the University began founding cross-faculty research centers, opening up new subjects for investigation and research and innovative study programs. These interdisciplinary centers – the Center for Infection Research is one of them – have by now become an internationally prominent trademark of the University of Würzburg.

Creating research centers has provided enormous thrust and has pushed the University into the top-level group of German academic institutions. The successful integration of the centers into the structures of the University has had many positive effects. Among others, it has rapidly boosted the amounts of public funding, private donations, or research funds raised from industrial companies. And the number of academically prestigious publications since the mid-1990s has grown, even though the endowment of the University of Würzburg with positions for professors and assistants remained almost constant in that period.

Science and Success

The scientific standing of the University of Würzburg also shows in its numerous Collaborative Research Centers, Research Training Groups, and Research Units, whose funding by the German Research Foundation (DFG) Würzburg's scientists have raised against heavy competition.

In 2002, the University of Würzburg launched one of the three Centers of Excellence the DFG funded across Germany – Rudolf Virchow Center /DFG Research Center for Experimental Biomedicine. Its teams investigate key proteins, which are especially important for sustained health, respectively in the origin of diseases.

Promoting the Next Generation

The University of Würzburg regards the promotion of junior academics as an essential responsibility. Establishing its Graduate Schools in 2004 constitutes another milestone in this endeavor. These institutions provide doctoral candidates with the appropriate structures and formats to continue and enhance their education.

International Relations

About 1,700 foreign students from more than 100 countries are registered at the University of Würzburg. Formal partnerships exist with more than 30 universities world-wide. The University of Würzburg also participates in the ERASMUS programme together with a further 91 European universities. As a member of the Coimbra Group the University is connected with other well-known traditional universities.

How to apply

Your Partner: The International Office

International students should apply to the International Office whether they are applying for the first semester or for a higher semester. Please apply using our application form. EU-Citizens apply for Medicine, Pharmacy, Dentistry and Psychologie at the hochschulstart.de and for restricted subjects ONLINE(explained below). If you do not meet the requirements for direct admission to a course of study, you can apply to take a preparatory year at the Studienkolleg. Please use the same application form.

The staff of the International Office will be pleased to help you with your application and your admission to the University of Würzburg. Our e-mail address is international@uni-wuerzburg.de. We are also responsible for processing your application and sending out your admission letter. Applications should reach us by 15 July for the following winter semester and 15 January for the summer semester.

Which documents are required?

Please apply using our application form entitled "Antrag auf Zulassung zum Studium". It can also be downloaded from our website www.international.uni-wuerzburg.de or obtained from our office. If you do not meet the requirements for direct admission to a course of study, you can apply to take a preparatory year at the Studienkolleg. Please use the same application form.

You must include with your application officially authenticated copies of

- your secondary school leaving certificate(s) with transcript
- university entrance examination certificate (if applicable)
- academic transcripts of courses taken at university in your home country and, if applicable, degree certificate
- include a certificate showing your proficiency in German (at least level A 2)

Applicants for the Studienkolleg have to show a certificate with level B2. Applications from Nepal are required to show the Certificate of the Goethe Institute B2.

If the certificates are not in German, English, French, Italian or Spanish, officially authenticated translations should be enclosed.

As soon as we have got your application and we have proved them to be correct you will get an admission letter with all information important for the DSH-Test, registration, accomodation etc.

Check your application form carefully before mailing it and do not wait until shortly before the closing date before sending off your application! Apply as early as possible, since you may also need some time to apply for the student visa.

EU and EEA citizens please apply ONLINE

(www.uni-wuerzburg.de/fuer/studierende/studienangelegenheiten/bewerbung_und_einschreibung/daten_online/bewerbung/)

for all restricted subjects except: Dentistry, Medicine, Pharmacy and Psychology

For Dentistry, Medicine, Pharmacy and Psychology

students from EU and EEA countries and applicants with a German Abitur apply to hochschulstart.de.

The address is:

Hochschulstart.de

Please check the website for the latest application deadlines

German Language Certificates

The language of instruction at German universities is German. Applicants are therefore required to provide evidence that they have a good knowledge of German. Please send a certificate at level A 2 when you submit your application. Applicants for the Studienkolleg have to show a certificate with level B2. Applications from Nepal are required to show the Certificate of the Goethe Institute B2.

We cannot accept a certificate merely confirming that you are participating in German classes. Before you take up your studies you will be required to take a German test (DSH2 or DSH 3). The Language Centre at the university offers the above-mentioned test in the beginning of April and October. In order to give you the possibility to prepare for the test and improve your proficiency in German the Language Centre offers four-week courses (€ 200) in March and September for students with a Letter of Admission.

In the case you pass the DSH with level 1 or you aren't able to take part in the test or pass the test, you are allowed to take part in the language courses during the semester by showing your admission letter. The course fees for one semester are € 400 at the moment (12/2011).

Only applicants who prove that their school leaving certificate is recognised as equivalent to the German higher education entrance qualification called Abitur are allowed to take part in the language courses.

More information about the language courses you will find at the following internet address:

http://www.zfs.uni-wuerzburg.de/sprachen/deutsch_als_fremdsprache/

Note that applicants for Dentistry and Medicine must submit a DSH 2 or equivalent certificate when they apply.

Applicants who have already passed one of the following German test don't have to take part in the German test of the University of Wuerzburg:

- das Deutsche Sprachdiplom (Stufe II) der Kultusministerkonferenz (DSD II)
 - die Zentrale Oberstufenprüfung (ZOP) des Goethe-Instituts
 - das Kleine deutsche Sprachdiplom des Goethe-Instituts
 - das Große deutsche Sprachdiplom des Goethe-Instituts
 - der TestDaF mit dem Ergebnis 4 x TDN 4(=DSH 2)
 - die Feststellungsprüfung eines deutschen Studienkollegs.

Student Visa/ Residence Permit

Please do not travel to Germany on a tourist visa!

Once in Germany, this cannot be changed into a student visa nor can you obtain a residence permit based on a tourist visa. More comprehensive information regarding visa application requirements is available from your German Embassy or Consulate. The sooner you organise your student visa, the more time you will have for the other necessary study and travel preparations.

German embassies and consulates may be found on the Internet at: www.auswaertiges-amt.de This website also contains up to date information about residence permits and visas.

Information on degree courses

The Central Academic Advisory Service (Zentrale Studienberatung) offers brochures and leaflets with more detailed information on the structure and content of the degree courses of the University of Würzburg. These brochures are also available on the Internet: <http://www.uni-wuerzburg.de/fuer/studierende/zsb/studieninteressenten/informationmaterial/>

Courses on Offer

For the complete list of courses on offer go to:

www.uni-wuerzburg.de/fuer/studierende/angebot/faecher/

Subjects with admission restrictions

For some subjects, there is only a limited number of places for new students. Sometimes numbers are also restricted for applicants for a higher semester, too.

www.uni-wuerzburg.de/fuer/studierende/studienangelegenheiten/bewerbung_und_einschreibung/bewerbungundzulassunguebersich/

Note for applicants for Dentistry and Medicine

Students applying for Dentistry and Medicine must submit a DSH 2 German proficiency or equivalent certificate with their application. For more detail see:

www.international.uni-wuerzburg.de

Bachelor/Master

The academic qualification after successfully completing a three-year Bachelor Degree is either: "Bachelor of Arts" or "Baccalaureus Artium" or "Bachelor of Science". The academic qualification after completing a two-year Master Degree is either: "Master of Arts" or "Master of Science".

These study courses are assembled in accordance to the ECTS point system. The courses are modularised in a tiered structure of studies. The university examinations take place throughout the duration of the studies. Instead of the English graduate title of "Bachelor of Arts" it is possible to graduate with the Latin title of "Baccalaureus Artium". One can graduate with a Master degree qualification after completing a further two years (4 semesters) in the chosen course of study.

The University of Wuerzburg offers different combinations in choosing major and minor subjects:

One-Major subject 180 ECTS

Two-Major subjects each 85 ECTS

Major/Minor subjects 120/60 ECTS

More information on the following website:

<http://www.uni-wuerzburg.de/fuer/studierende/angebot/abschluss/bachelor/>

Staatsprüfungen

State examinations apply to very few, nevertheless significant courses of study. These subjects include Medicine, Dentistry, Pharmacy, Law and Teaching profession subjects. The state examinations are administered by the state examination authorities or boards of the Länder (states). For the first three subjects noted above the examination regulations are valid uniformly in the whole Federal Republic of Germany. The examination regulations for the other subjects, however, are determined by the individual Länder (for Wuerzburg it is defined by the state of Bavaria). Therefore for these subjects examination regulations may differ from state to state.

With regards to the Courses of study of Law and Teaching, these two subjects have a special characteristic in that both the state examination and university examination exist. A final overall mark (with a given weighting factor) is calculated, which comprises of a state exam mark and a university assessment mark.

After the First State Examination, which concludes the Course of Study, a second, practical training phase often follows. This leads to the Second State Examination after which the professional training for becoming either a fully qualified lawyer or teacher is completed.

State examination courses offered at the University of Wuerzburg:

- Medizin
- Pharmazie
- Rechtswissenschaft
- Zahnmedizin
- Lehramt an Grundschulen
- Lehramt an Hauptschulen
- Lehramt an Realschulen
- Lehramt an Gymnasien
- Lehramt für Sonderpädagogik

Studies at Master Level

In order to apply for a Master programme your Bachelor's Degree with a good grade has to be recognized as equivalent to the Bachelor's Degree at the University of Würzburg. Studies at PhD Level (Doctorate)

A doctorate can be taken in any subject taught at the University of Würzburg. To qualify to take a doctorate, the graduate will be expected to have a good degree at Masters level or after at least four years of study in the subject in which he or she intends to do research.

Guidance and counselling for the doctorate is given by a professorial supervisor (known in Germany as a "Doktorvater") who may either propose a topic for the doctoral thesis or accept the topic proposed by the student.

Important: Students must first contact the department and professor who represent the research area. The names and telephone numbers of academic staff of the University of Würzburg and their special subjects can be found on the internet at: http://www.international.uni-wuerzburg.de/en/studying_in_wuerzburg/admission/doctorate/. The official letter of acceptance as a candidate for the doctorate (Promotionszusage der Fakultät) is issued by the commission of the faculty concerned.

International Student Tutors

International students who know their way around will be pleased to help you during the first few days, for instance, they can

- meet you at the station
- help you move into your accommodation (key for room, contact with caretaker)
- help you fill in the various forms (registering at the University, residence permit)
- help you to register with the authorities, go to the health insurance office etc
- generally help you to settle in (where to shop, opening a bank account etc.)

The International Office can provide you with a list of these tutors. The list can also be downloaded from our website: http://www.international.uni-wuerzburg.de/studium_in_wuerzburg/tutoren/

Orientation Programme and Semester Programme

The International Office offers an orientation programme for international students during the months of October and November for the winter semester and in April and May for the summer semester to help you settle in to your new environment. These activities include the intensive German courses organised by the Language Centre, a reception to welcome new students, guided tours of the town and libraries.

In addition, the International Office offers a semester programme together with the student representative body and the Lutheran and catholic university association (with a variety of cultural events, excursions, a tandem programme with German students etc. This programme is published at the beginning of the lecture period and can be downloaded from the International Office website: www.international.uni-wuerzburg.de/semesterprogramm/. The Tutors in the halls of residence also have interesting programmes for students.

Scholarships and Financial Assistance

The relevant organisations in your home country e.g. the Ministry of Education, can inform you about their own scholarship schemes. The biggest German scholarship programme is that organised by the German Academic Exchange Service (Deutscher Akademischer Austauschdienst, DAAD - www.daad.de). DAAD scholarships are generally only awarded to advanced students or graduates. The DAAD has a web-based scholarship data bank at: www.funding-guide.de. The German diplomatic missions and other German offices abroad, such as the Goethe Institute or the branch offices of the DAAD provide information on how to apply for a scholarship or a grant.

Living Expenses

The cost of living in Würzburg is relatively low. You will probably require around € 700 per month (including rent). An example of approx. costs in Würzburg:

|--|----------------------|
| Food | € 200 |
| Rent | € 250 |
| Health Insurance | € 80 |
| Miscellaneous (books, travel etc.) | € 152 |
| Radio and television fee (obligatory.....) | € 18 |
| Total | approx. € 700 |

The cost per semester at the University of Würzburg:

You will need a current living address for when you apply for your residency permit at the city's registration office.

Accommodation Services

The accommodation services department of the Student Representatives' Council can assist students in renting privately-owned rooms. It is strongly recommended that you come to the office in person at the soonest possible time before commencement of semester. Information about rooms cannot be given out in writing, therefore written communication, i.e. via post or email, is not advised.
